2. Seperate instructions are given with each section & question, Wherever necessary. Read those instructions carefully and follow them carefully.
3. Do not exceed the word limit while answering the questions.

Section - A: Reading - 20 Marks1. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow:

1. Experts say that what customers buy in the name of herbal cosmetics is often the same synthetic cosmetic with a herb or two added, which works to lure customers. A product that says it is 100% natural may be misleading in the sense that it's difficult to stabilize a fully natural base and is always quite expensive, requiring advanced technology. The desired shelf life of a product is expected to be at least two years, but that of a purely herbal product would be restricted to about six months. Also, the product won't be aesthetically appealing as a synthetic product. Hence manufacturers of herbal products have to include synthetic base ingredients to balance the formula.
2. Herbal ingredients might also cause allergies as they may contain a large number of constituents which may be allergic to that user. Thus the concept of using 'total extracts' may be harmful, because there are several other ingredients going into the product. Also, things like pH need to be considered before using it.

3. According to the law experts, customers suing someone is considered extreme. Given the legal system in India and the long-drawn litigation process, consumers tend to pursue legal action against manufacturers / distributors in the event of any problem. However, with the dawn of consumer forums and more effective laws protecting the interests of the consumers, the trend is slowly moving towards this direction.
 4. At times it is not just manipulate manufacturers and passive consumers but sometimes weak and absent rules regarding the process of manufacturing can also get fake production licenses. Also one cannot make a generalisation that synthetics are safe while naturals are harmful. I would say that the difference is that if one is a known devil (synthetics) the other is unknown. Unlike the case of synthetic cosmetic, herbal cosmetics are still in a nascent stage. You don't have well-defined standards for the use of raw materials in the production of herbal cosmetics.
 5. Finally, customers can also check out their cosmetics by using the 'Cosmetics ingredient dictionary,' a database of 19,000 ingredients. It claims to help users check out what a chemical compounds they use daily. This App lets you feed the names of the ingredients written on the container into the app and then get the reading about it.

2. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow: -

- The most beautiful humming birds are found in the West Indies and South America. The crest of the tiny head of one of these shines like a sparkling crown of coloured light. The shades of colour that adorn its breast are equally brilliant. As the bird flits from one object to another, it looks more like a bright flash of sunlight than it does like a living being.
- But, you ask, why are they called humming birds? It is because they make a soft, humming noise by the rapid motion of their wings - a motion so rapid, that as they fly, you can hardly see that they have wings. One day when walking in the woods, I found the nest of one of the smallest humming birds. It was about half the size of a very small hen, and it was attached to a twig no thicker than a steel knitting needle. It seemed to have been made of cotton fibres and was covered with the softest bits of leaf and bark. It had two eggs in it, and each was about as large as a small sugarplum.
- When you approach the spot where one of the birds has built its nest, it is necessary to be careful. The mother bird will dart at you and try to pick your eyes. Its sharp beak may hurt your eyes most severely and even destroy your sight.
- The poor little thing knows no other way of defending its young, and instinct teaches it that you might carry off its nest if you find it.
